

Christmas Eve

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

Peace and goodwill, love and kindness, it's all the same.

A seasonal poem by Marion Edey.

Music by Dany Rosevear.

On a winter's night
When the moon is low

The rabbits hop on the frozen snow.

The woodpecker sleeps in his hole in the tree

And fast asleep is the chickadee.

Twelve o'clock

And the world is still

As the Christmas star comes over the hill.

The angels sing, and sing again:

Peace on earth, goodwill to men.
