

Five little men made out of snow

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

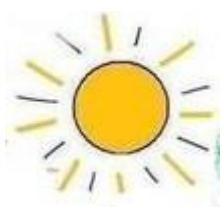

This traditional song has several tunes but I love this one by Nancy Stewart.

This song can simply be played using the fingers and hands or with a group of children where one child drops down each time to become a puddle.

1. Hold up five fingers.
2. Pretend to put on hat and tie bow.
3. Make sun with a big movement and make it shine.
4. One finger wiggles downward.
5. Shrug shoulders and throw out palms of hands.

Five lit - tle men made out of snow, Each with a hat and a big red bow, Out came the sun and it stayed all day, One lit - tle snow - man mel - ted a - way! And he said, "Oops, I'm a pud - dle!"

Five little men made out of snow,
Each with a hat and a big red bow,
Out came the sun and it stayed all day,
One little snowman melted away!
SPOKEN And he said, "Oops, I'm a puddle!"

Four little men made out of snow... And so on

No little men made out of snow,
None with a hat and a big red bow,
Out came the sun and it winked my way,
Put on your wellies, it's time for puddle play!
