

The snowflakes' carol

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

A folk carol from Bas-Limousin. From 'A third sixty songs for little children' published in 1960. Arranged by Dany Rosevear. It is snowing in our part of the SouthWest of England for the first time in years. Everything is so still, quiet, white and beautiful!

The snow is fall - ing so gent - ly Down from a pear - ly grey sky, The an - gels in Hea - ven are sing - ing, Ho - san - na! for Christ - mas is nigh.

The snow is falling so gently
Down from a pearly grey sky,
The angels in Heaven are singing,
Hosanna! For Christmas is nigh.

The stars peep out through the snowflakes,
Bright shining flowers in the sky,
While all through the world we are singing
For joy, because Christmas is nigh.
