Words by Maude Burnham with music by Louise B. Scott from 'Singing Fun' 1962. Sing this slowly and expectantly until you get to SNAP!

1. Draw a pond with forefinger and put out right arm. 2. Place curved hand on arm. 3. With hands next to the eyes open and close right thumb and forefinger, do the same with both hands then roll both forefingers round. 4. Make right hand makes a snapping movement, cross both forefingers and look sad.

On the edge of a pond, on a great big log, Sat patient - ly wait - ing a speck - led green frog. He winked and he blinked, and he rolled each eye; Then SNAP! went the frog at the lit - tle green fly.

On the edge of a pond, on a great big log,
Sat patiently waiting a speckled green frog,
He winked, and he blinked, and he rolled each eye;
Then SNAP! went the frog at a little green fly.
