I can't think of any thing nicer to drink, especially in the summer, as a glass of cold water. This was possibly written as a prohibition song in the 1930s In the U.S.A. PNW Folklore - Paul Ashford.

sing, "Cold wa - ter, cold wa - ter, Cold wa - ter, cold wa - ter for me."

Cold water, cold water for me;
There's nothing so pure and so free.
I'll go to the brook and I'll go to the spring,
And over the bubbles I'll merrily sing,
"Cold water, cold water,
Cold water, cold water for me."

There's nothing like water to give,
The strength that we all need to live.
I'll go to the brook and I'll go to the spring,
And over the bubbles I'll merrily sing,
"Cold water, cold water,
Cold water, cold water for me."
