

Somewhere there is a forest

We all need our moments of peace and fresh air. This song was written Stevens and appears in the 'Our chalet songbook' published in 1974 at ABC schools 'Sing!' 1995 number song (counting back) for harvest time.

Some - where there's a fo - rest, Where you can stand and dream, And walk a - lone be - side the wa - ters Of a fo - rest stream. Where — qui - et - ness and peace of mind, Are wait - ing there for you to find, So leave the nois - y world be - hind, For just a lit - tle while.

Somewhere there's a forest,
Where you can stand and dream,
And walk along beside the waters
Of a forest stream.

Chorus:

*Where quietness and peace of mind,
Are waiting there for you to find,
So leave the noisy world behind,
For just a little while.*

Somewhere there's a seashore,
Where the wind is blowing free,
And wheeling seagulls call above,
The music of the sea. Chorus

Somewhere there's a hillside,
Where you can climb at dawn,
And wonder at the sunrise,
As another day is born. Chorus
