

When I'm on my journey

Don't weep after me – a lively spiritual. I encountered this more secular version in the 60s. The traditional song with the words 'On the good ship Zion' comes from the Bahamas and was recorded by Pete Seeger.

When I'm on my jour - ney, don't you weep af - ter me. ____ When I'm on my jour - ney, don't you weep af - ter me. ____ When I'm on my jour - ney, don't you weep af - ter me. ____ I don't want you to weep af - ter me. ____

*When I'm on my journey, don't you weep after me,
When I'm on my journey, don't you weep after me,
When I'm on my journey, don't you weep after me,
I don't want you to weep after me.*

Every longly river must go home to the sea,
Every longly river must go home to the sea,
Every longly river must go home to the sea,
I don't want you to weep after me. Chorus:

When the stars are fallin' and the thunder starts to roll,
When the stars are fallin' and the thunder starts to roll,
When the stars are fallin' and the thunder starts to roll,
I don't want you to weep after me. Chorus:

High up on the mountain, leave my sorrow down below,
High up on the mountain, leave my sorrow down below,
High up on the mountain, leave my sorrow down below,
