A Halloween hand play and a great excuse for lots of percussion sounds. Words, music and game by Dany Rosevear.

Verse 1. Hands crossed over at wrist flap in different directions. Chorus: Hands prowl, put hands to cheeks looking fearful, roll arms round each other, throw fists in the air. 2. Waft hands around. 3. Stomp fists one on top of the other. 4. Hands form witches hat on head, whiskers to mouth, draw moon. 5. Shake arms and hands, hands to face.

Bats fly up and bats fly down, They fly all over our dark little town;
They're out at night to give you a fright, But shout 'BOO!' 'BOO!' and they'll run,
And they'll run and they'll run, and they'll run,
For it's Halloween fun!

E Am E Am E
dark lit - tle town; They're out at night to give you a fright, But shout
'BOO!' 'BOO!' and they'll run, And they'll run and they'll run, and they'll run,
For it's Halloween fun!

'BOO!' 'BOO!' and they'll run, And they'll run and they'll run and they'll run,
For it's Halloween fun!

Bats fly up and bats fly down,
They fly all over our dark little town;
*Chorus: They're out at night to give you a fright,
But shout 'BOO!' 'BOO!' and they'll run,
And they'll run, and they'll run and they'll run,
For it's Halloween fun!*

Ghosts fly east and ghosts fly west,
They fly all around in their floaty white vests; Chorus

Witches whizz by with cats on their brooms,
They cackle and screech at the shimmering moon, Chorus

Monsters stomp along the streets,
With sharp yellow claws and big hairy feet; Chorus

Skeletons shake and rattle their bones,
Wailing and swaying with terrible groans; Chorus
