

Clap your tiny hands

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

This is a song I half heard one Sunday morning on BBC Radio 4 about thirty years ago, it was sung beautifully by some old fellow in the West Indies. I adapted it for a Nativity play two decades ago – but didn't record it! It is now resurrected in a form that might be recognisable to someone out there though recent research on the internet suggests the original might have been the gospel song, 'Clap your tiny hands for joy'. Sing to a baby while clapping their hands gently together. Encourage young children to clap along with the music. Words and music arranged by Dany Rosevear.

Clap your tiny hands, clap your tiny hands,
Clap your tiny hands for me,
Clap your tiny hands, clap your tiny hands,
Clap your tiny hands for me.

Little children sing, Christmas joy we bring,
Clap your tiny hands for me,

Clap your tiny hands, clap your tiny hands,
Clap your tiny hands for me.

Little children come, Christmas time is fun...
Little children shout, Christmas bells ring out...
