

Here is the witch's tall black hat

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

A Halloween hand play for the spooky season.

It can also be used making small finger movements. The first verse is from 'Mother Goose Rhymes & Songs: Early Childhood Education' written by J. R. Shannon many years ago. Set to music and second verse by Dany Rosevear.

Verse 1. Form a triangle above head. Use two fingers to stroke whiskers across face. Circle eyes. Make a funny face and wiggle fingers.

Verse 2. Form a circle with arms in front of tummy. Make 'ooh' sounds and wiggle fingers. Hook thumbs together and, flutter fingers. Throw hands to cheek then form the witches hat!

CAPO: 3rd fret

Am E

Here is the wit - ch's tall black hat, Here are the whis - kers on her cat.

Am E Am

Here is an owl up high in a tree And here is a gob - lin! "Hee, hee, hee!"

Here is the witch's tall black hat,
Here are the whiskers on her cat.
Here is an owl up high in a tree
And here is a goblin! "Hee, hee, hee!"

Here is a pumpkin, plump and round,
Here is a ghost making spooky sounds.
Here is a bat goin' flippety-flap!
Oh dear! It's knocked off the witches hat!
