

Glad to see you and welcome

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

A welcome for those arriving from places near and far.

As a young child, (my father was a pilot in the RAF) I moved from one school to another quite often, including spell in Malaya, no boarding school for me! For a young child it was exciting to discover new places and make new friends. Luckily I was always made to feel welcome in my new surroundings.

This song can be easily adapted for different settings: 'to our library / your new school / term / year today'. This song might be familiar to some as is it an offshoot from a lullaby I wrote recently to welcome a new baby. Words and music by Dany Rosevear.

Glad to see you and wel - come, to our won - der - ful world! To our beau - ti - ful big fam - i - ly, — Glad to see you and wel - come, for here you will find,
New friends and com - pan - y. We'll care for each oth - er, be thought - ful and What - ev - er your lang - uage, what - ev - er your Come out in our gar - den where seeds of love kind, Share all our wor - ries, What's yours — is mine. To - geth - er we'll creed, Smile at each oth - er and help those in need.
grow, Where sun - shine and won - der make the rain - bow road glow.
tra - vel, to - geth - er go far, We'll reach for the morn - ing star!

Chorus

Glad to see you and welcome, to our wonderful world!
To our beautiful big family,
Glad to see you and welcome, for here you will find,
New friends and company.

We'll care each other, be thoughtful and kind,
Share all our worries, what's yours is mine.
Together we'll travel, together go far,
We'll reach for the morning star! Chorus

Whatever your language, whatever your creed,
Smile at each other and help those in need.
Together we'll travel, together go far,
We'll reach for the morning star! Chorus

Come out in our garden where seeds of love grow,
Where sunshine and wonder make the rainbow road glow.
Together we'll travel, together go far,
We'll reach for the morning star!
We'll reach for the morning star!

