

One little daffodil

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

A daffodil fingerplay and number rhyme.

Music arranged by Dany Rosevear.

Indicate numbers with fingers and make arm and hand grow into a new daffodil. Use any other hand play opportunities.

One little daffodil slowly grew and grew,
Out came a - noth - er, then there were two.

One little daffodil slowly grew and grew,
Out popped another, then there were two.

Two little daffodils smiling at a bee,
Out popped another, then there were three.

Three little daffodils growing by the door,
Out popped another, then there were four.

Four little daffodils, so glad to be alive,
Out popped another, then there were five.

Five little daffodils wearing golden crowns,
Dancing in the breeze in their lovely, green gowns.
