

Flower's lullaby

<https://rivgrofsong.uk/>

The seasons change and the flowers sleep ready to be called from their slumber. From 'Song stories for the kindergarten' published in 1940, the words are credited to Patty S. Hill and the music a Thuringian folk song. Arranged by Dany Rosevear.

1. Hands with fingers outstretched frame face, put hands to cheek.. 2. Rock head with hands framing face, hands move like the wind. 3. Nod head, move downwards. 4. Fingers fall like snow, hands to cheek.

Sum - mer flow'rs are sleep - y, Sum - mer time was long. Si - lent - ly they're rock - ing, Swayed by north winds strong. Ti - ny heads are nod - ding, Low - er still they creep, Soon be - neath the snow - flakes, Lit - tle flow'rs will sleep.

Summer flowers are sleepy,
Summer time was long.
Silently they're rocking,
Swayed by north winds strong
Tiny heads are nodding,
Lower still they creep,
Soon beneath the snowflakes,
Little flowers will sleep.
