A song to sing when tidying up.

Words and music by Dany Rosevear.

The youngest children can sing the chorus over and over as they tidy.

Slightly older children can sing the first verse and listen to the others and then join in the chorus. Older ones might sing the whole song.

We have ve - ry bu - sy hands that help us through the day. Help - ing here and help - ing there to put our things a - way. Pick it up, pack it up, put it all a - way, Pick it up, pack it up, put it all a - way.

We have very busy hands that help us through the day,
Helping here and helping there to put our things away;

Pick it up, pack it up, put it all away,
Pick it up, pack it up, put it all away.

Everything has a place, a place where it should be.

Then tomorrow you will find things, oh, so easily.

Pick it up, pack it up, put it all away,
Pick it up, pack it up, put it all away.

Many hands make light work when we help our friends,

The more we work together, the sooner tasks will end.

Pick it up, pack it up, put it all away,
Pick it up, pack it up, put it all away.
