

Harmony in the garden / Robin sweetly sings

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

It's summer, time to reconnect with our gardens and its place in context of a wider world. The Earth belongs to each and every living thing but depends on us to treat it well. We must play a part as our planet and its plants and animals need kindness and respect. Words and music by Dany Rosevear. The verse melody is adapted from a folk song.

The musical score is written on three staves in G major, 4/4 time. The first staff contains the first line of the verse: 'In the gar-den rob-in sweet-ly sings, It sings for you and me, It sings its song for'. The second staff contains the second line: 'ev-ry-one, It sings so mer-ri-ly. All crea-tures great, all crea-tures small, The'. The third staff contains the third line: 'air, the land, the sea; Earth's gar-den fair needs our love and care, To live in joy-ful har-mon-y.' Chords are indicated above the notes: G, C, G, D, G, G, D, G, C, G, D7, G, C, Am, G, G, D7, G.

In the garden robin sweetly sings,
It sings for you and me,
It sings its songs for everyone,
It sings so merrily.

*Chorus: All creatures great, all creatures small,
The air, the land, the sea;
Earth's garden fair needs our love and care,
To live in joyful harmony. x2*

In the garden rain falls gently down,
It falls on you and me.
It wakes the flowers one by one,
And dances merrily.

In the garden flowers bloom and grow,
They bloom for you and me.
They open wide to greet the day,
And smile so merrily.

In the garden hedgehog curls up small,
To hide from you and me.
Then scuttles round on tiny feet,
And snuffles merrily.
