

Yes we can!

This question-and-answer action song encourages a positive attitude in young children. 'Yes, we can!' works well as a transition between activities, especially when children need a break from sitting. The movements are meant to be obvious, and as a 'zipper' song, it invites children to invent their own actions too. It also helps children learn directions. I always found left and right difficult to tell apart and still touch a small scar on my right hand to check. Another useful tip is to make a capital 'L' for 'left' with your thumb and forefinger. Some children may also say, 'I write with my right / left hand.' Words and music by Dany Rosevear

Can you step left? Yes, we can!
Can you step right? Yes, we can!
Can you stretch up? Yes, we can!
Can you sit down? Oh, yes we can!

Can you clap left? Yes, we can!
Can you clap right? Yes, we can!
Can you clap up? Yes, we can!
Can you clap down? Oh, yes we can!

Can you jump left? Yes, we can!
Can you jump right? Yes, we can!
Can you jump up? Yes, we can!
Can you turn round? Oh, yes we can!
