

The more we get together

<https://riverofsong.uk/>

This cheerful little song is sung to the old German tune ‘Ach, du lieber Augustin’. The lyrics remind us of the value of friendship and teamwork. Children love singing each other’s names, use the names of each group in the third line: ‘There’s Lois and Georgia and William and Dylan’.

Facing partner hold hands. Swing arms and feet from side to side. Still holding hands swing arms over heads and turn around and through to face partner.

Join hands with a second pair and skip round in a circle, left then right.

Swap partners to make a new pairing. Continue game.

The more we get together, together, together,
The more we get together, the happier we'll be.
For your friends are my friends,
And my friends are your friends.
The more we get together, the happier we'll be.

The more we get together....
For sharing is caring and caring is sharing.
The more we share together, the happier we will be.

Try singing this song in different languages, here it is in Spanish:

Lo mas que nos reunimos, reunimos, reunimos
Lo mas que nos reunimos, seremos felices
Tus amigos son mis amigos y mis amigos son tus amigos.
Lo mas que nos reunimos, seremos felices
