Mad mischief and mystery!

At the 'Halloween jamboree'. Halloween fun with a calypso rhythm, inspired by the song from Jamaica, 'Zombie jamboree'. Accompany this with spooky percussion sounds. Words and music by Dany Rosevear.

On Halloween night the spooky folk came. They came from all around.
Beneath the moon, along our street, Making weird and wonderful sounds.
Orange and black, purple and gold, They waltzed around together;
Wild and wary, wobbly and scary, Some floating as light as a feather.

Chorus: Skeletons, witches, ghosts eating jelly,
Don't scare me for I'm shaking already,
Goblins, monsters with great green bellies,
Mad mischief and mystery!
At the Halloween jamboree.

On Halloween night hear cries and calls, "Come and join us – if you dare!"
Jack-o'-lanterns grin as the fun begins Looking out for who they can scare.
Knocks on doors, giggles galore It's time for trick and treating!
In disguises, full of surprises Friends and families meeting! Chorus
