A Mexican carol / El rorro

.https://riverofsong.uk/

A traditional Hispanic lullaby sung to the child in the manger. The syllables "ru-ru-ru" are traditional Spanish lullaby sounds used to soothe a baby to sleep.
From 'Making Music BBC Television for schools Autumn 1966.
Words adapted by Dany Rosevear.

Picture AI generated

Chorus: A la ru ru ru the babe is sleeping,
And o'er the world now the dark is creeping.

Oh hush, you beasts and birds both small and mighty,
From elephants to humming birds, tread lightly. Chorus

The sweetest songs the angel host are singing;
In welcome, far and near the bells are ringing. Chorus

Oh marvel all on earth, both high and lowly,
To us is born tonight a baby holy. Chorus